

Assistant Controller

Longenecker's Hatchery – Elizabethtown, PA 17022

Longenecker's Hatchery is a regional supplier of broiler chicks and hatching eggs for farmers and for small to mid-size companies. We contract with many local farms to raise chickens and produce eggs for our hatching operations, and we provide a high quality product at a competitive price. As a fifth generation, family-owned company, farming is a way of life for us and has been since 1919. Our team is service-oriented, and we strive to help farmers, to support the community, and to keep the business running for future generations. We are seeking to hire an individual to help us achieve these key performance objectives:

- Ensure that all vendors and contractors are paid correctly and on time, that all customers are billed correctly and on time, that all bills are collected, and that all receivables are processed promptly.
- Work with our public accounting firm to supply everything that they need according to their schedule and to execute their recommendations.
- Collaborate to identify opportunities and risks through general ledger analysis in order to provide and present strategic guidance to the management team.
- Collaborate with the rest of the Administration team to help ensure that supply chain data entry continuously achieves the output goal of accurate reporting of actual costs, especially per flock.
